

PLANET GRIEF

After floating around in space for a while, you now find yourself on Planet Grief. There are almost as many Planet Griefs as people in the world, and no two look the same. This planet is quite strange, but you find that over time, it starts to feel strangely familiar. What does your Planet Grief look like?

How I would describe it:

Things I can do here:

What can't I do here:

What helps me survive here:

PLANET GRIEF

Who else lives here:

My alien feelings on Planet Grief:

